

William J. Petersen & Edgar R. Harlan Lifetime Achievement Award

Nomination Guidelines

The William J. Petersen/Edgar R. Harlan Award recognizes an individual, group or organization that has made significant long-term or continuing contributions to Iowa history. It is named in honor of two legends at the State Historical Society of Iowa, William J. Petersen and Edgar R. Harlan.

William J. Petersen, long-time curator of the State Historical Society, was known for his book, Steamboating on the Mississippi, thus earning him the nickname "Steamboat Bill."

Edgar R. Harlan served as the second director and curator of the Historical Department of Iowa and played a key role in acquiring many of the museum's most important collections.

The following criteria will be used to select the winner of this prestigious award:

- Create a significant body of work
- Demonstrate professionalism in work
- Influence Iowans' perceptions of themselves

One William J. Petersen/Edgar R. Harlan Award may be given annually. Should a worthy nomination not be received the award may not be given.

State Historical Society of Iowa employees and Board of Trustees members are not eligible to receive the award for a period of three years following the end of their tenure. Special considerations may apply.
