

Think Like Jean Adeline Morgan Wanatee

- Discuss why Jean Adeline Morgan Wanatee would want to work with the Smithsonian to share Meskwaki language and culture.
- Wanatee believed that American Indian children should be educated in local public schools under tribal control. Why do you think this was important to her and others?
- Human rights, especially those of American Indians and minority women, were important to Wanatee. Discuss reasons why she would take an interest in this area.

Jean Adeline Morgan Wanatee (1910-1996)

Jean Adeline Morgan Wanatee was born in 1910 on the Meskwaki Settlement in Tama, Iowa. She was a member of the Wolf Clan. Over the years, Wanatee worked tirelessly for the rights of American Indians and for the rights of women – particularly women of color. She was a Meskwaki language specialist and resource for the Smithsonian Institute. Nationally, Wanatee was the first woman elected to the Meskwaki Tribal Council. Most recently, a park in Linn County was renamed after her. When asked what she would like people to know about her, she responded, “Where I came from, I am proud that my people never left Iowa, never became prisoners. They are the reason I want to help.”

Think Like Taimah

- Taimah and the Meskwaki experienced pressure from white settlers and were forced to move from their native territory. What issues would he and the Meskwaki be dealing with during this contentious time?
- Many of Iowa's lakes, rivers, cities, counties, schools, buildings and sites are named after Indigenous people. Discuss reasons why past leaders decided to do that.
- Taimah served as the principal leader of a Meskwaki village. What characteristics and traits would be necessary to serve?

Taimah (1790-1830)

Taimah was a Meskwaki (Fox) leader in the early 19th century in present-day Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois. He was born into a Meskwaki family in their historic territory in present-day Wisconsin. Taimah was the principal leader of a Meskwaki village near Burlington, Iowa. He was known for saving the life of a U.S. Indian agent (a civilian appointed by the president) by warning him of an assassination attempt. He is also known as Chief Tama in historical records and was one of the signatories of an 1824 treaty ceding land to the United States. Taimah is the namesake of the city of Tama and Tama County, Iowa. The city is located near the Meskwaki Settlement, founded in 1857 when the Meskwaki were allowed to buy land in Iowa. Taimah's son was Appanoose who also became a chief. Appanoose County, Iowa was named for him.

Think Like a Geographer

A person who studies the environment and how it impacts people.

- Describe details about this location. What do you notice that can help figure out where this place is located? What is unique?
- Why would people move to or leave this place?
- How would people travel to this location? How has traveling to this location changed over time?
- Describe details about people who live here and how they impact the location? How does the location impact the people who live there?

Ira Cook (1821-1902)

Much like how a geographer studies the land, a land surveyor is someone who measures land areas in order to determine boundaries for settlers to purchase. Ira Cook was one of many lowans to receive a contract from the government to be a land surveyor when Iowa territory had to be measured. Cook endured tough conditions, long journeys by foot and wagon and harsh weather from 1849-1853 as he crossed the state measuring the land. He was elected mayor of Des Moines, Iowa, in 1861 and later moved to Washington, D.C., to become Deputy United States Revenue Collector in 1864.

Think Like an Economist

A person who studies the ways people make a living.

- Describe the people in relation to the location. What jobs or occupations do you think people had? Why do you say that? How do you think they met their needs and wants?
- How do decisions made by individuals affect themselves and the economy?
- How do decisions made by businesses affect people?
- How do jobs impact people and the economy? Describe what happens when jobs are lost.

Voltaire Twombly (1842-1918)

Voltaire P. Twombly was elected Treasurer of Iowa in January 1885. The treasurer officially oversees the state's revenue and finances. He served three terms in the position before stepping down in 1891. Not only was Twombly financially savvy, he also was a war hero. During the Battle of Fort Donelson during the Civil War, he picked up and carried his regiment's national colors after three other members of his regiment were killed or incapacitated by Confederate fire while attempting to secure the flag. Twombly received a Medal of Honor in 1897 for his heroic deeds during the battle.

Think Like a Historian

A person who explains changes that happened in the past.

- What happened in the past? Why is it important to understand what has happened in the past?
- How did past decisions or actions significantly transform people's lives?
- What has changed or stayed the same over time? Who benefited from the change? Why? Who did not benefit? Why?
- Who or what made changes happen? Who supported the change? Who didn't? Why?

Louise Noun (1908-2002)

Louise Frankel Rosenfield Noun spent her life preserving and sharing Iowa history. She was born in Des Moines to Meyer Rosenfield, owner of the Younker's department store, and Rose Frankel Rosenfield, a suffrage-supporting mother. Noun and Mary Louise Smith, the former chair of the Republican National Committee, worked together to found the Iowa Women's Archives at the University of Iowa Main Library. The archives include important manuscripts and papers which record women's history in Iowa. Louise Noun also authored numerous books and papers regarding feminist history in Iowa.

Think Like a Political Scientist

A person who studies governments and how they work.

- What problems might people have faced in this society?
- What rights do people have? What rights are people missing?
- What might lead to people being treated fairly? What might lead to people being treated unfairly?
- What information can be gathered about trends at this location or time period that might change or impact the future?

George Gallup (1901-1984)

A native of Jefferson, Iowa, and graduate of the University of Iowa, George Gallup invented the now famous Gallup Poll. The Gallup Poll is a method of survey sampling (asking different people the same question for their answers) to help figure out public opinion. Polls are important for elections and helpful for political scientists. The first instance of using the Gallup Poll for politics was the 1932 campaign of Gallup's mother-in-law, Ola Babcock Miller, who successfully ran for Iowa Secretary of State.

Think Like a Journalist

A person who tells others about the story.

- What are the major headlines of this historical topic?
- What people would you want to interview? What questions would you ask?
- What details are needed to tell this particular story to people not from this area?
- Why is it important to share news about what is happening at this time period or this location?

George Mills (1906-2003)

There was not a story developing within the Iowa Capitol's hallways or chambers that George Mills did not cover for The Des Moines Register newspaper. Mills covered events and political news at the capitol building from 1943-1971 and later served as a reporter for television station WHO-TV. From 1943 to 1954, Mills was also the Iowa correspondent for Time, Life and Fortune magazines, writing Iowa stories for a national audience.
