R. C. Tisdale Announces For State Legislature

ADVOCATES A LAW COMPELLING BANKS TO FURNISH BONDS FOR PROTECTION OF DEPOSITORS

R. C. Tisdale announces his candidacy for the State Legislature from District No. 1, Pinal County, Arizona, and says that if elected, he will at all times be in favor of laws for the protection of the property of the citizens of the State of Arizona, and will favor an economical administration for the State and respective counties in all governmental affairs, and will at all times be alert for the interests of Arizona in her power-privileges in the Colorado River, and all other existing rights not yet adjudicated by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Idea on Banking Laws He favors a law requiring all banks in existence, or to hereafter be organized to do business in the state of Arizona, to give a bond in an amount equal to 75 per cent of deposits in the bank at all times, said bond to run in favor of the state of Arizona, and to be approved by the Attorney General of the state of Arizona, and one Judge and the County Attorney, of the county in which the bank is located, guaranteeing to all depositors that in case of failure of said bank that at least 75 per cent of the money on deposit at the time of its failure will be paid to the depositors. A bond of this kind will not be unreasonable, and by all honest bankers cannot be justly objected to.

It takes only a casual observer into the financial world to see that the present distressed financial condition of our country, and especially in the state of Arizona, is caused by bank failures. If the bonding system to protect those who trust the other fellow with money is not a good thing, why do the banks themselves require their tellers to give bonds? Why does the State demand a bond from the bank for all state money, and why do the railroads receive bonds from the banks for their money?

If I am intrusted by your ballot to represent you in the next legislature, I will at all times work for the above measures.

R. C. Tisdale

OLYMPIAD IS OPENED AT THE COAST

Los Angeles, July 30.—Standing in serried rank on rank, the great amateur athletes of the world today heard Vice President Charles C. Curtis officially open the Olympic games, the 10th of the modern era.

Watched by a capacity crowd of 105,000 under a blazing California sun, athletes and dignitaries put on a soul-stirring spectacle.

The parade of the Olympic nations, with the athletes dressed in sparkling gay uniforms of varied hues and contrasts, backed by the great crowd, formed a once-in-a-lifetime picture.

Each nation's athletes formed in line behind its flags, all facing to the south side of the stadium where the presidential box was located.

It was a warmly responsive crowd and the spectators had a hearty cheer for each of the nations, from the tiny Latvian and Haitian groups to the imposing squads of Italy, Germany, Great Britain, the United States, Japan and the others.

The uniforms were grand. Most consisted of white trousers with coats of varied colors.

The athletes formed across the field and Vice President Curtis and other officials moved to the "tribune of honor," a small festooned stand placed at the south edge of the field. There the address of welcome was given by William May Garland of Los Angeles. He requested Vice President Curtis to order the games open. This done there was a fanfare of trumpets from the peristyle. Ten cannon boomed out the Olympic salute. The Olympic torch, a bronze bowl atop the paristyle was lighted and the Olympic flag was raised.

Two thousand gray pigeons were released as world wide messengers of good will, just after the torch was lighted.

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul president of the University of California, delivered a lengthy address of dedication and benediction. The great choir of 1,200 voices massed around the large band, then sang a hymn and the olympic flag was raised.

Then came one of the most inspiring moments. The young men bearing the bright banners of most of the civilized nations of the world came forward in a shallow semi-circle and surrounded the stand upon which Lieut. George Calnan of the United States navy took the Olympic oath in behalf of his brother athletes of all races.

Lieutenant Calnan, a member of the United States fencing team, repeated the impressive oath in a measured and resonant voice.

As he stepped down, the flag bearers dropped back, each taking position in front of the columns of athletes.

The choir sang a recessional, the athletes paraded from the field, and the show was over.

CAMP PLANS STARTED

Pinal County Camp for women will be held at Summit Aug. 16 to 20, so those who can join the group should get in touch with the local chairman or Mrs. Avis Wells, Home Demonstration Agent, at Casa Grande. Mrs. Jessie Brown of Florence wrote about the camp as follows when she returned last year.

CAMPING

Why stay in the valley and swelter Through eons of dust and heat, When a slick little camp at the Summit, Is so wonderfully easy and neat. Just load in your cots and your blankets, And join the merry crew. That trek for a week's encampment Take a rest with the far sighted few.

Mrs. Wefls, our county home maker, will gladly show you how. The Chairmen for the different localities are: Mrs. Asa Gardner, Coolidge; Mrs. Lidge Childs, Kenilworth; Mrs. H. A. Wolf, La Palma; and Mrs. M. L. Talla, Signal Peak.

MARKHAM VS MUSTACHE

T. E. Markham is jubilant over the fact that Coy C. has raised a pretty little pink mustache which is cute and coy alright. However we see nothing amiss or hilarious about the fact that a man wishes to wear a mustache, but, if the raising of a mustache causes merriment, let every man raise one regardless of color, and give pleasure to the depressed during depression.

Recent guests at the Damron Hotel were J. K. Wormack and N. W. Newhart of Tucson, and T. W. Griffith, L. C. Cooper, H. Skibble, and W. F. Gruhan all of Phoenix.

Alva L. Weaver of Florence was a caller at the Coolidge Examiner office Tuesday and announced himself a candidate for the office of County Assessor subject to the will of the democratic voters at the primaries Sept. 13. Mr. Weaver has held a number of prominent offices in the past and has proven an efficient and courteous official. He has a wide acquaintance throughout the county and will undoubtedly poll a good vote at the primaries.

Mr. Weaver is too well and favorably known to the voters of Pinal county to need an introduction from the Examiner, but his active part in all civic work proved his ability and integrity to assume the responsibility of the office of county assessor, and the public is assured of efficient and courteous attention from him if elected to the office he seeks.
